

i do not think that a government body such as the fcc has the right to dictate to me what service i should be provided by purchase.